

Peace of Mind for the Storm Season

Between surges generated by Southwest Florida's storms and those generated inside your home, your appliances and electronics have many chances to be damaged or destroyed this summer.

The most effective way to protect your electronics lies in a two-stage plan:

Stage 1- Meter-based protection installed at the electric service entrance. This is designed to protect your major household appliances.

Stage 2- Point-of-Use protection installed inside your home. These devices are designed to protect your sensitive electronics.

LCEC customers can protect their appliances through LCEC's surgeSENSE program. You can lease the complete surgeSENSE package for $5.95 plus tax per month, plus a one-time set-up fee or purchase it for $299.95 plus tax.

With LCEC and surgeSENSE, you have the power to protect. Call 239-997-SAVE or 800-201-SAVE, or visit www.lcec.net.

Visit the new and improved LCEC Web site!

LCEC recently redesigned its Web site to make it even more convenient and easy to navigate. The site is designed so that the most commonly requested information is easily accessible from the main menu. If you have any problems finding information, you can find it listed on the site map.
