

LeeCares assistant programs available to help with utility bill payments

Families and businesses impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic may be eligible for up to $3,000 per household. Round 2 opened Aug. 17 and recipients from earlier rounds may be eligible for additional funding related to rent, mortgage, utility, and child care expenses. Visit LeeFLcares.com for additional information about all available programs.

LCEC partners with the United Way to create a program that assists financially strained customers with their electric bill payments.

Customers and employees contribute funds to the program so United Way 211 can administer them to eligible recipients.

LCEC and the United Way are committed to helping people in our community improve their overall quality of life through long-lasting change. By donating to the LCEC Power to Share Program, you can help those who need it the most. Donations to the fund can be made at <https://www.unitedwaylee.org/donate/>.
